

Tantech Holdings Ltd. To Ring the NASDAQ Stock Market Opening Bell on Monday, April 27

LISHUI, China, April 24, 2015 /PRNewswire/ -- Tantech Holdings Ltd. (NASDAQ:TANH), will ring the opening bell at the NASDAQ Stock Market in Times Square to celebrate the completion of Tantech's initial public offering on March 24, 2015.

Based in Lishui, China, Tantech develops and manufactures bamboo-based charcoal products for industrial energy applications and household cooking, heating, purification, sanitation and agricultural uses.

Mr. Zhengyu Wang, CEO of Tantech, marked the announcement of the Company's NASDAQ bell ringing ceremony, saying, "We are pleased to have this opportunity to share Tantech's story with the investing world. We believe Tantech's R&D into the green energy industry - including the use of bamboo-based charcoal in supercapacitors - has positioned our company well for future opportunities."

Mr. Wang further stated, "I am encouraged about the growth opportunities with the development of clean energy globally, the continued growth of Chinese middle-class and improvement of living standards in China. I am committed to use the proceeds from the IPO judiciously and to maintain a corporate culture that is dedicated to transparency and corporate governance with the ultimate goal of increasing shareholder value."

Mr. Wang and the management team invite interested viewers to watch the NASDAQ opening bell ceremony on April 27, 2015 from 9:15 a.m. to 9:30 a.m. Eastern Standard Time. A live webcast will be available at <https://new.livestream.com/Nasdaq/live> or <http://www.nasdaq.com/about/marketsitetowervideo.aspx> and may also be viewed on such television networks as CNBC, CNN, and CCTV.
